Dear Sirs,

I herewith take the opportunity to write you in order to keep you informed about the Hellenopolonica research project.

Firstly I would like to send you the following internet links which are directly related to our research project:

1) <http://hellenopolonica.blogspot.com> (a blogspot, recently launched, where the posts are published for the moment only in polish but we hope soon also in English and Modern Greek).

2) www.facebook.com/hellenopolonica (the blogspot exists also in facebook page where you could read also the posts and make your comments. Here the translation in English is done automatically by the machines [google, bing etc] and we don't have any responsibility or involvement because of the text bad quality. We hoop also to have those same texts in English correctly and also in Greek).

The research project is running by the University of Wroclaw (Faculty of Philology, Institute of Classical, Mediterranean and Oriental Studies) and is under the direction (responsibility) of Professor Gosciwit Malinowski. This research program is actually supported financially by the Polish Ministry of Higher Education and Research initially for the period 2012-2014 in the frame of the 5th Research National Program for the scientific/academic evolution in the Humanities.

Purpose of the program: to explore and promote all possible aspects (cultural, literary, historical etc) of the Greek-polish relations between 14th - 20th century. For this aim the creation of a website is scheduled where several data (texts) in Greek language concerning Poland and its whole cultural background (literary and literary scholarship texts, correspondence, images, history etc), would be uploaded, accompanied by the adequate bibliography (sources and studies).

Of course till now we have gathered several texts for this purpose and we are working for the design of this website. Simultaneously a collective team work is produced for the research of archival material and bibliography.

We remain open to any suggestion for collaboration and we have the intention to send you the information about the Hellenopolonica website creation soon as it would be uploaded.

Yours Faithfully,

dr.Kiriakos Papoulidis
